Following the banquet, a program was presented in the gym. Dr. J. W. Montgomery Spoke Sunday at Unified Baptist-Methodist Service

DR. J. W. MONTGOMERY
Dr. J. W. Montgomery spoke on "Religions in Latin America" at the unified Baptist-Methodist service held on Sunday morning at the Methodist church.

The speaker who knows South America gave some interesting beliefs of the people of Latin America. The Incas he said are not worshippers of the sun, moon and stars as has been generally believed but are rather seekers for a knowledge of the creator of the elements. They, he said, have found a God of Wrath and a God of Justice but not a God of Love.

In his extensive travels he found ignorance, illiteracy, superstition, poverty, and in some sections found, in a land of potential plenty, starving children.

"A Country," said Dr. Montgomery, "is what it is because of its religion. No country is higher than its religion." He stressed the great need of taking the Gospel into the country's where little if any religious belief is evident. "The Christian religion has brought to America all the stv cmf cm cm cm vbyvbg that is worth living for," he said and added that the sending of Missionaries to the Latin American countries was a great investment and paying the best dividends.

Dr. Montgomery, traveler and lecturer was enroute to South America, to gather information for his winter lectures to schools and colleges in the United States.

On Tuesday Andrew stepped on a piece of broken bottle on the floor of a store and cut his foot. He was taken to the Kings Daughters Hospital where it was necessary to have several stitches taken. Andrew is now a "shut-in" at his home but it is hoped that he will have no further mishaps to interfere with his summer fun.

District Governor Speaker At Rotary Club

Raymond Butler, district governor 141st district Rotary International, was guest speaker at the Bay St. Louis Rotary club's annual Ladies' Night banquet at Hotel Reed on Thursday evening.

Mr. Butler, a Rotarian for twenty-one years with an unbroken attendance record except for a period spent in a hospital, was a bit on the witty side in the opening remarks of his address but he soon waxed into the serious side of Rotary and left everyone wanting to be a Rotarian.

The speaker said that each Rotary club should set a standard toward which to work and used the illustration of the one coal removed from a pile of live coals became dead ashes. "Each member," he continued should have a definite thing to do it and thus he becomes an integral part of the organization. "Your organization will grow and function the speaker said as long as the members consider it an honor to belong and those who are members deem it an honor to be a Rotarian.

"Since our government is a government of and by the people" he said, "rotarians should participate—not by trying to form opinions but to enter into discussions to bring about facts."

Paying high tribute to our country and its government he concluded by saying that instead of undermining or changing our institutions let Rotary be one of the institutions to rear up men and women big enough to carry on the principles set forth by our forefathers.

The new officers were installed: Dan Russell, president; Octave Delph, vice president; A. H. Gregory, secretary. A. E. Cox, retiring president was presented with a past president pin.

The invocation was given by Rev. John T. Dearing and the program opened with the singing of America. The general favorite number of the Rotarians "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" was among the songs. Mrs. Carl Smith was the pianist.

A clever Quiz program built around "Bay St. Louis Rotary Club" was led by Howard LeTissier as only Howard can do it. Ben and Irene Hille displayed all the brains by knowing all the answers but Kirkpatrick better known as "Kirk" came in for his share of the spoils by answering the 64 dollar question.

Of course there was the usual delicious meal prepared and served at the Hotel Reed which bespeaks for perfection always and light and love and laughter stalked about.

"Pat" Rooney, as chairman of the program committee, did a good job for the program was one of the best yet put on by the club.

There were a number of local guests present and out of town guests were Mrs. Raymond Butler, Eldredge Helwick and Mrs. Ethel Thomas, Memphis, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landry of Pass Christian.

The program closed with the singing of "Rotary My Rotary."

ALTAR SOCIETY NEWS

The regular monthly meeting of the Altar Society will be held next Wednesday, July 17, 3:30 p. m. in Convent Den. As usual members are invited and urged to attend.

Once before we asked members and friends to contribute flowers for the decoration of the altars on Sundays and holy days. With more than 200 members in our Society, surely at least one quarter of this number must have a flower garden. So if every member would contribute just once a year, that would keep the altars amply supplied. Surely this is little to ask, and besides as you may know, a flower on the altar is a prayer to God for the giver for his or her intention. So won't you try to remember to bring or send flowers on Saturday mornings, any time before 12 noon.

And now let us not forget our paper and rag drive that is only two weeks off. Have you been saving, and reminding others to do the same? Any kind of paper, cardboard, magazines, and rags of all sorts will be picked up on Saturday July 27th, so please be sure to place them on your front porch or steps. If you have too many to put out, place a few to show the man you have some, and he will be glad to go to your shed and pick them up for you.

St. Augustine Student Drowns While Swimming

Charles Adelen, 17 year old student of St. Augustine Seminary, was drowned here on Sunday afternoon while out swimming with several other students.

The body was not recovered until about two hours after he went down and all efforts to revive him were of no avail. Constable Gerald V. Price, A. G. Favre, Sr., and his sons were at the scene soon after and worked hard to locate the body but Edward Anderson, passing by in his boat brought the body up by means of his net which he uses for shrimping. Brother Linus and Brother Felician from St. Stanislaus rendered first aid and the pulmonator was used by the attending physician, Dr. M. J. Wolfe, but the body had been in the water too long.

Young Adelen was preparing for the Brotherhood and was here from his home in Springfield, Kentucky. His funeral was held here on Wednesday morning upon the arrival of his parents. Interment was in the cemetery of St. Augustine Seminary.

The young men according to Father Busch, rector of the Seminary, were swimming off the summer home of the Seminary on North Beach and young Adelen was said to be a good swimmer. It was thought that he was seized with a cramp or could have had a heart attack.

Slot Machine Cases Continued for Two Weeks

The cases in the Court of Justice of the Peace L. B. Capdepon against A. Trapani, Dick Daley, Wing Bertucci and M. Bernard for the operation of Slot Machines and the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors were called on Thursday morning.

The defendants were represented by Mr. Lucien Gex in the cases charging them with the operations of the slot machines, the court being advised that Mr. Gex did not represent them in the cases charging the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors.

In the absence of the District Attorney who is engaged in Court in Stone County, at the present time, Dan M. Russell, Jr., local attorney appeared in behalf of the State, and for the prosecuting witnesses, and asked that the Slot Machine cases be continued for the present time, stating that other suits were being filed against the same parties, and others operating slot machines, and that there was no necessity of trying the cases filed until all defendants were brought into court.

Mr. Gex representing the defendants had also asked the court for time, so Judge Capdepon granted a continuance for two weeks.

County Agent Advises Farmers To Save Roughage This Summer

To help meet the uncertain feed situation, County Agent Charlie Stone this week advised Hancock County dairy farmers to produce and save every possible pound of roughage this summer.

"Use pastures and grazing crops as much as possible to keep dairy herds in good condition and to maintain milk production," Mr. Stone urged. "Plant additional grazing crops for late summer and begin planning now for fall and winter grazing. Save all of the dry roughage possible this summer to use for next winter's feeding."

"Take full advantage of the oat crop which has just been harvested and lay in a supply of oats for future use," the county agent continued. "At least half of the concentrate feed for dairy cows can be made up of home-grown cereal grains."

During the feed emergency, take better care of the better producing cows, Mr. Stone recommended. If it becomes necessary to sell any of the cows in the herd, sell the lowest producing cows.

Good quality hay which has been cut before it is in bloom and saved so that leaves and bright green color are retained will contain nearly as much digestible protein as some of the commercial feeds now on the market, he pointed out. Cows that have all the good grazing they can eat and good quality dry roughage at night will produce nearly three-fourths as much milk as they will on a normal grain ration.

"Don't sell good cows now," Mr. Stone advised. "It will be most difficult to find good producers to replace them later. Provide grazing and roughages for the dairy herd and, if necessary, accept a reduction in milk production per cow, but avoid sacrificing high producing cows because of the feed emergency."

Speaker at Hancock County Law Enforcement Meeting

"Liquor is involved in a large percentage of crimes committed in our country," said Edwin B. Ziegler, Chief P. S. Probation Officer for the Southern District of Mississippi, in addressing the Hancock County Law Enforcement Association in Bay St. Louis last week. Speaking on the topic, "Liquor, Gambling and Crime Control," Mr. Ziegler stated that "twenty-five percent of our juvenile delinquents comes from homes in which one or both parents use alcohol to excess." He asserted that 4 out of every ten murder victims were killed while drunk or drinking.

Ziegler advised the group to work continuously at its goal of enforcement of the state liquor and gambling laws. "This job cannot be accomplished in a short period of time; it will require constant vigilance and a steady expenditure of effort and money over a period of several years." It is the tremendous financial profits in these twin evils that make them so hard to control," he stated. "Too, it is common knowledge that illicit gambling and liquor are rotted in political corruption."

The Probation officer stated that there is considerable agitation in the state for paying the sheriffs a set salary and separating the office from that of tax collector. He said that if the sheriff were allowed to succeed himself in office he could bring to this job valuable experience and a greater knowledge of the science of law enforcement, but that in such case provision for easier impeachment should be made.

ARMY DEAD—308,978

The War Department announced last week that World War II had taken the lives of 308,978 American soldiers. This does not include those killed in the Navy, Marine Corps, and Merchant Marine, which adds almost 1,000,000 more to the death list. Total Mississippians killed, exclusive of Navy, Marines and Coast Guards, is given as 3,555. This includes those killed on battlefields, those who died of wounds and other causes, and all those missing and unaccounted for. The state of New York lead all other States, with a total of 31,215.

INDUSTRIAL

William Barksdale, former secretary to Gov. Bailey, now ably directing the work of the Agricultural and Industrial Commission says that efforts to balance agriculture with industry is succeeding splendidly. In less than two years Mississippi has seen approximately a dozen and a half new industries put into action. These new factories have a payroll of approximately eight million dollars a year. More are under consideration and some are under construction. Mississippi enjoys many advantages along industrial lines and people with money for investment are now beginning to realize these facts.

NEW BUSINESS

A report by Dunn & Bradstreet, released June 25, shows new charters granted by all states, and the report indicates an enormous business in new corporations formed in the different states. The report shows that the first quarter of 1946 saw 34,785 new corporations formed in the United States. The month of April reports 12,146 new charters granted. The amount of capital stock is not shown in the new charters. Mississippi at the present time is having a big run of charters issued. In the first quarter of 1946 the number of new corporations granted in the state was 187 and in the month of April the number was sixty-one. This is a strong indication that this state is really and truly beginning to "Balance Agriculture with Industry."

HIGHWAY PATROL

Under the law of the 1946 session of the Legislature thirty-three new highway patrolmen have been added to the list already employed. Patrolmen now in service number an even one hundred. Of the men added twenty-four will be assigned to patrol duty alone, and nine will give their time to checking up on drivers' licenses.

At least six out of the seven present representatives in Congress from Mississippi will be continued in that capacity for another two years. In the seventh district the present incumbent, Dan R. McGee, will contest with John Bell Williams in a second primary on August 27. The complete list of new Chancery and Circuit Judges will be given in this column next week.

GOV. BAILEY AT HOME

Gov. Thomas L. Bailey, who underwent a surgical operation in New Orleans, several days ago has returned to Jackson. He is said to be getting along all right, but did not feel like riding to Meridian Tuesday to cast his vote, so he cast an absentee ballot.

RAKING AROUND

H. O. Hoffman of Hattiesburg, well and favorably known around the State Capitol, has been appointed, effective June 1, Superintendent of the Mississippi Central RR Co., with headquarters at Hattiesburg. Mr. Hoffman was connected with publicity and advertising for the state under the administration of Gov. Hugh White. Mayor J. P. Nanny was elected president of the Miss. Municipal Assn. in annual convention held in Vicksburg a few days ago. Edward Stettinius has resigned as a member of the United Nations Security Council. To succeed him President Truman has appointed U. S. Senator W. R. Austin of Vermont. Senator Austin is a Republican member of the Senate. His present term will not expire until next January at which time he will assume the duties of his new job. Case of Willie Francis, Louisiana negro boy who was "run through the electric chair" but escaped with his life when the chair failed to perform, has been given a stay of execution until the supreme Court of the United States hears his case in October. Lawyers in the case have sent to Mississippi for a history of the Will Purvis affair in which case the noose slipped over Purvis' head and he escaped with his life when the effort was made to hang him.

Milk Improved Fliers' Vision

Schenectady, June 29—Canadian fliers during the war improved their vision by drinking milk, Kenneth F. Fee of Albany, director of the milk control division of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, declared in a general Electric Farm Paper of the Air address here over WGY.

"Experiments conducted by the nutritional division of the Royal Canadian Air Force conclusively demonstrated that the vision of their airmen could be materially improved by feeding them a substance known to scientists as riboflavin," Mr. Fee pointed out. "An adequate amount of this substance could not be furnished without feeding them milk. As a result of the work of the nutritional division, the amount of milk allowed per day per man was increased from a single ounce supplied at the beginning of the war, first to 10 ounces and later to 24 ounces per day. The feeding of such amounts of milk to Canadian airmen was characterized as one of the big things done by the Medical Branch," Mr. Fee said.

"THE OUTLAW"

Howard Hughes' Daring
Production, Starring
Jane Russell

The most talked about film ever produced has been released to the public at last. It is rich in action, drama, love and suspense with a grand cast. Including Walter Huston, as a gambler, Thomas Mitchell, as the sheriff, Jack Buetel, whose performance you'll not forget as Billy the Kid, and of course, Jane Russell, whose role as the half-breed girl has made her a star. The story opens with Buetel, a young outlaw without morals, acquiring through questionable means a horse owned by Huston, whose reputation as a killer was known widely. Buetel's determination to retain the horse fascinates Huston, leading to a close association between the two. Their kinship in crime incurs the enmity of Sheriff Thomas Mitchell, Huston's former pal, who orders them out of town. Both decline to leave but, when Buetel is wounded in a gunfight as the sheriff tries to arrest him for a killing, Huston helps the young desperado to escape and takes him to the cabin of Jane Russell. Then starts the fighting and double-crossing between Jane and Jack, but see the rest of the story for yourself. Jules Furthman wrote the screen play, and Howard Hughes produced and directed it.

Mississippi's Future As Oil, Gas Producing State Is Bright

World
Last For Years,
Experts Believe

Mississippi, which ranks tenth today as an oil producing state, has come a long way since the spring of 1939 when an obscure geologist in search of a clay suitable for cereal bowls for under-nourished children stumbled onto an unusual geological formation which provided the clue to Mississippi's first producing oil well.

Until that time 475 wells had been completed in a fruitless search for oil, but the only producers were 61 gas wells in the Jackson Field, and four gas wells in the Amory Field, which was depleted in 1939.

Today, just a little more than six years after the WPA worker's discovery, Mississippi has 661 producing oil wells in 22 proven fields. Total production to date amounts to 110,000,000 barrels of crude oil.

In addition to the wealth of oil produced in so short a period, Mississippi's extensive gas fields already have provided 115,815,924,000 cubic feet of gas.

More significant than production figures, however, are the future possibilities which Mississippi offers as an oil and gas producing state.

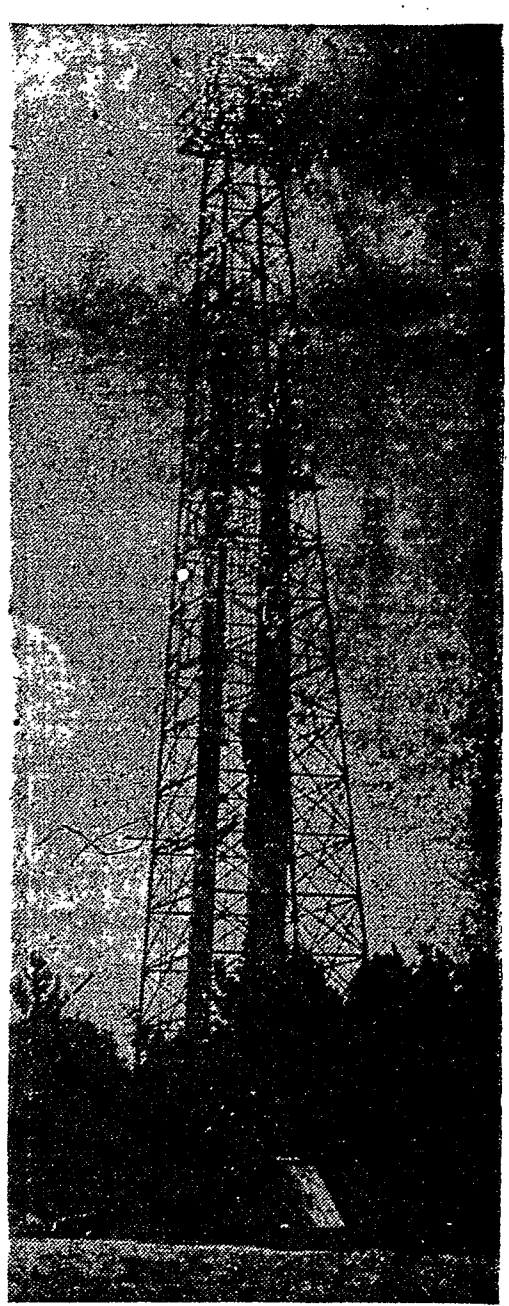

Authorities on the subject recently estimated that Mississippi has 325,000,000 barrels of recoverable oil and condensate reserves, or three times the amount already produced in the past six years. Based on present production, this would last for 20 years. These same authorities estimate the state's recoverable gas reserves at two trillion cubic feet, enough gas reserve to last for over 100 years.

Although Mississippi has produced oil only since 1939, the search for liquid gold has been underway for the past 43 years.

The first record of a well drilled in Mississippi in 1903 locates it in the town of Enterprise in Clarke county. This well, however, was abandoned at a depth of 1842 feet. Repeated attempts to locate oil were made at intervals until 1939, but all met with failure, so far as oil was concerned.

The first producing oil well in Mississippi was brought in under fiction-like circumstances.

Frederick P. Mellen, geologist on a WPA subsidized State Geological Survey, was searching creek beds and banks in Yazoo County back in 1939 for a clay suitable for molding cereal bowls and milk mugs for nursery and school lunch project for under-wells in each, and the discovery dates are listed in the box below. Millions of dollars have been spent in Mississippi to date by almost all the major and many independent oil companies in leases, exploration, materials and drilling operations. All over the state in 1944 and 1945 there was a feverish wave of buying and leasing, and drilling of wildcats.

Activity in 1946, however, has slackened in Mississippi as in other states. Exploration and actual drilling of wildcat wells in Mississippi is expected to slump throughout the year. From January 1 to June 15th, for instance, the number of exploration crews have dropped from 80 to 50. Only 110 wells have been completed through June 20th of this year. Of this nourished children.

One day he found a bed of fossilized known as "Woody's Marl" while working 15 feet above sea level along a creek 10 miles south of Yazoo City. Later he uncovered the same marl 150 feet above sea level and 10 miles from the original discovery.

To Frederick Mellen the two finds didn't make good geological sense, and he reported them in detail to his superior, Dr. W. C. Morse, state geologist at the University of Mississippi. Dr. Morse issued a statement that the "Tinsley" structure should be further explored to determine whether or not the subsurface structure is sufficiently pronounced to warrant a commercial test well.

This was the starting flag, and the search was on.

On the morning of August 29, 1939, just five months later, the first commercial producing oil well was brought in on the property of Green Crowder Woodruff, surprised owner of a small country store at Tinsley. By the end of that year 9 oil wells and a gas well had been brought in.

By 1942, at the peak of its production, Tinsley Field had 326 producing wells, with a monthly output of 2,500,000 barrels. Total production in Tinsley to date amounts to $5,900,000 barrels, making it by far the largest producing field in the state.

Geologists estimate conservatively that Tinsley reserves will total 125,000,000, or enough to keep it in production for another five to ten years, depending upon new discoveries.

To date, about 70 percent of the state is under lease, and production is concentrated mostly in the central and southern area.

Roles Fit Stars Perfectly.

Every so often, out of Hollywood comes a picture so well performed that it appears as though the roles were intentionally written to fit the personalities of the cast. And, in the case of Paramount's "The Blue Dahlia," at the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday, they were.

The three stars, Alan Ladd, Veronica Lake and William Bendix, plus the more important featured players, Howard da Silva, Doris Dowling, and Tom Powers, were all studied beforehand as to their personal characteristics and previous portrayals. Then, Raymond Chandler, famous for his many best-seller murder mysteries and for his film adaptation of "Double Indemnity," wrote his first original screenplay around the cast. The result is said to be one of the most dramatic thrillers ever to shock an audience.

"The Blue Dahlia" is reported to be an action-packed melodrama of murder and mayhem, in which Alan Ladd battle both sides of the law in an attempt to prove himself, and his pal, Bendix, innocent of the slaying of Doris Dowling, Ladd's faithless screen wife. Between scraps he treats Veronica Lake to some traditional Ladd love-making.

Industry Pays for Winona Plant

The town of Winona recently "cashed in" on its investment in the Delta Chenille Co., Inc., plant when W. B. Patey, general manager of the R. D. Sanders Industries, presented city officials with a check of $27,000, relieving the city of its indebtedness on the industry. Winona voted a $35,000 bond issue in 1940, under the original BAWI act, to erect the plant. It presently employs approximately 400 people and has a payroll of almost a half million dollars each year. The plant manufactures chenille robes, turning out approximately 50,000 each month. Shown above at the check presentation which relieved the bonded indebtedness are, seated, left to right: Mayor J. M. Lamb, Mr. Patey, and former mayor L. Eubanks; standing, left to right, Aldermen W. S. Gerard, Kennedy Bryan, J. E. Allen and J. L. Shelton.

Jacob Rudolph 82, Died Thursday, July 4, at His Home Here

Jacob Rudolph, 82 years of age died here Thursday, July 4 at 1 p. m. at the home of his sister, Mrs. Peter Capdepon where he has made his home for the past 24 years. He was a native and life resident of Bay St. Louis and had been ill for a short period of time.

His funeral was held from the Fahey Funeral Home on Friday morning at 11 o'clock with services there and at our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and at the cemetery. The Rev. Father Dominic officiating. Burial in the Capdepon family.

Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery. His pallbearers were Judge L. B. Capdepon, Judge Henry Fayard, Louis Banderet, Joseph Rudolph, Anthony Loiacano and George E. Heitzmann.

Jacob, as he was known to most people was a familiar figure on the streets and he was the friend of everyone. Several years ago he had the misfortune to have one of his legs amputated and since that time he had been more or less confined to the house but his friends always stopped to greet him. He is survived by a sister Mrs. Capdepon and one brother George Rudolph and a large number of nieces and nephews. Sympathy is extended to the Rudolph and Capdepon families.

Softball League To Have Shaughnessy Series To Determine the Champions

The Softball League operated by John Scafield for players from all parts of Hancock County is probably the fastest in the history of this sport. The games which are played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of every week are attended by large crowds of fans and now that the league is entering its sixth week, the seven teams comprising it have shown such vast improvement that it is hard to predict just who will finish on top at the end of the season. So far the Mobile Express has not lost a game in nine starts, but the remaining games may tell a different story. The League which has its playing grounds at the St. Stanislaus Stadium in Bay St. Louis will run for three complete rounds when the teams in the four positions will play a Shaughnessy Series to determine the Champions.

Coach Scafield is also picking a group of the best players from the different teams which he will weld into a Bay St. Louis team to play against clubs from elsewhere. He is now arranging such a schedule for his All-Star Team.

The present league standing including games played Friday, July 5, follows:

	Games	W.	L.	Pct.
Mobile Express	9	9	0	1.000
Loiacano's Grocery	9	5	4	.555
Wilmer's Grocery	9	5	4	.555
Bernard's Restaurant	9	5	4	.444
Sanitary Bakery	9	3	6	.333
Bay Ice	9	3	6	.333
Scrimshaw's Mart	10	3	7	.300

Any softball teams desiring to arrange games with the Bay team may address challenges to John Scafield, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Shortages are holding him back

We in Southern Bell have been adding telephones at the rate of 350,000 a year. But shortages have been growing worse, and now it's harder and harder for us to get materials for manufacturing and building.

We aren't complaining for we are in the same boat as everyone else. But we thought you might like to know the supply situation on some of the biggest items in the telephone business.

LEAD—There is a world shortage of lead. Even when conditions here straighten out, it will be some time before adequate supplies are available.

COPPER—In great demand but we will probably have adequate supplies when the smelting, refining and fabricating plants get going.

TEXTILES—Serious shortage of cotton and synthetic yarns and fabrics, with demand greatly exceeding supply.

STEEL—Steel and coal strikes have affected supply in face of unprecedented demand.

RUBBER—Synthetics are in fair supply but natural rubber is on Government allocation.

LUMBER—Scarce supply due to unprecedented demand and dislocation of lumber trade.

BRASS MILL PRODUCTS—Used in Central Office switches and other telephone equipment. Supply will be short until disturbed conditions are settled in the copper industry, permitting brass mills to get back to full-scale production.

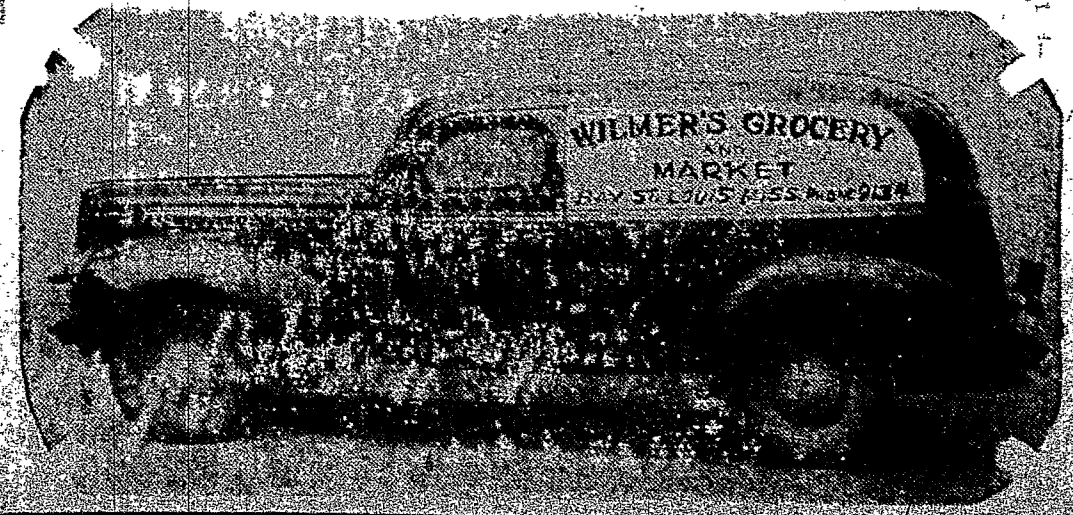

It's a tough situation, but we aren't giving up, any more than you have given up trying to get better or shirts.

We're doing the best we can with what we've got and hoping these disturbed conditions will end, so we can really go full speed ahead.
